Saturday:

Andrés Marín's Theatre Flamenco is at Fort Mason.

Theatre Flamenco's Ad Libitum. Spanish flamenco artist Andrés Marín's Theatre Flamenco company returns to San Francisco with the North American premiere of his boundary-pushing Ad Libitum, Or How I Freed Myself From My Chains. Singer José Valencia, guitarist Salvador Gutiérrez, percussionist Daniel Suarez, and dancers Carola Zertuche and Cristina Hall are on hand for an unrestrained expression of the meaning of freedom. While there are also performances on Friday and Sunday, after the Saturday show there will be a "Fin de Fiesta" party in the Firehouse at Fort Mason. Tickets for the afterparty are an additional $50/per person and include tapas from Loló, a post-performance reception with the artists, beer and wine, and a DJ and dance floor for Sevillanas, bulerías por fiesta, salsa, and more if you want to go all out.
